17-YEAR OLD GIRL HELD FOR CASHING BAD CHECKS HERE

CHARGED WITH $28 FRAUD AT SIMPSON AND BOSTWICK STORES.

FAINTS TWICE

Swoons When Questioned by Police—Claims Home as Billings, Mont.

Extensive police investigation of four days following the cashing of bad checks aggregating $28 at Janesville stores resulted in the arrest late Thursday of Miss Louise Slotia, 17, alias Margaret Hampton. She gives her home as Billings, Mont. The girl is now held in the county jail here without bail pending her preliminary examination in municipal court next Monday.

Her nerves keyed up by worry and the excitement of her arrest, the girl fainted twice within the past 24 hours. She fell into a swoon in her cell here last night and Thursday night in the midst of questioning by police and fainted again Friday morning when being taken to court. Pleading as to the condition of her health, officials ordered a medical examination. She was pronounced normal by examining physicians.

Jumped Board Bill

Police claim that Miss Slotia has repeatedly admitted that she forged and cashed two checks here Monday, one for $18 at the Simpson Garment store and the other for $10 at J. M. Eastwick & Sons. She is also alleged to have jumped a board bill at the Myers hotel where she stayed a few days when she first came to Janesville. She is being held on both charges.

The checks, both on the Rock County National bank, were signed "Mrs. B. P. Hampton" by Margaret Hampton. At one place she is said to have been clever enough to ask for a receipt to show her mother.

Found on Holmes Street

When both checks came back from the bank marked "no funds" and "no account," the matter was taken up with Chief Charles Newman. At one place she is said to have been clever enough to ask for a receipt to show her mother.

At first she denied the charges declaring it might have been her "twin sister." Later police say she broke down and confessed.

Her First Offense

Miss Slotia is not of the brazen type of girl familiar to police as check forgers and operators of the confidence game. Rather, officials said, she is a girl who is a native of the thought of cashing the bad checks was given her by companions and she is willing to believe her story that this is her first offense.

Voliva Signboards in Zion Make Merry Blaze

Zion City, Ill.—The city of Zion, seeking to hold itself sacred to Zionism, recently erected bill boards about the city, particularly in front of opposition churches. Thursday night a party of men, said to belong to the opposition, kept the fire department busy racing from one bill board to another putting out fires which the party had started.

The supports of the boards, most of which are 10 by 20 feet in size, were wrapped in oil-soaked rags and set fire simultaneously. In front of a mission called the "goat house" by Wilbur Glenn Voliva, head of the Zion church, a sign was completely burned down.

Another typical signboard, partially destroyed, read:

"This city was established by Zion people and for Zion people only. This is the exclusive quarters of the

SPANISH FORCES SUFFER DEFEAT FROM MOOR ARMY

MOROCCAN REBELS DRIVE LARGE CASTILIAN ARMY FROM STRONGHOLD. CRISIS IMMINENT

Moors Kill Spanish Soldiers After They Give Up Their Arms.

Madrid.—Spanish forces have suffered a severe defeat in northeastern Morocco, where they have been resisting heavy attacks by rebellious tribesmen, it is declared by newspaper here. Advice received by La Presse from Madrid and Zeila, which have been looked upon as keys of the Spanish position before Melilla, have been evacuated by the Spanish troops, while another newspaper says the tribesmen are holding five thousand prisoners. A ministerial crisis here seems imminent.

An official statement issued here today declared that Spanish troops have occupied Le Resting, a well known town in the bay south of Melilla and have driven off the enemy which has been attacking Sulekhar. The enemy suffered heavy losses, the statement said, and the Spaniards had two killed and wounded.

Prisoners who have escaped from Zeila report that the defenders yesterday agreed to evacuate the position after surrendering arms, but when the Spaniards surrendered their arms, the rebels fired on the Spaniards. Among those killed in the engagement was Captain Garrasco, who commanded the position.

Blame Tobacco Surplus, Not New Law, for 60-Day Closing of Warehouses

Closing of Wisconsin warehouses of the P. Lorillard company is not due to the new minimum wage law of the state but to over-production, declared George E. Gary, Wisconsin manager of the concern, in an interview with the Gazette over the long distance telephone Friday. The statement was made Thursday by H. T. Keller, local Lorillard manager, that the new industrial law, which took effect Aug. 1, was the cause.

Gloom Is in the Discard

Every ear that can be pressed into use for carrying grain is being moved to Minnesota, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska. Millions of dollars have been sent to the banks in those sections to care for the grain sold by the farmer. Box cars are given a corrugated paper lining and are hauling wheat to the eastern seaboard. Enormous demand is looked for from Europe in spite of conditions. Business is picking up. Here in Rock county while the farmer is not going to make the profit of past years, he is not going to be a great loser for the tobacco and corn are going to be big crops.

There is no use of being a gloom distributor and a purveyor of calamity. The sad faced man will have little company.

MINORS LOSE OUT IN NEW WAGE LAWS

Slow Workers, Also Affected, Employers of Women Here Claim.

While the new minimum wage law affecting women and minors will not cause any general discharging of employees among plants in Janesville employing female help, it will cause hardship to those 17 years and under and those who are not expert workers. This was brought out in an investigation here Friday.

"We fought against this new law," said L. F. Bennett, manager of the Gossard company, "when they held hearings here. While we have had to lay off two people, it will work a hardship on those who cannot earn the minimum of 25 cents an hour. We are trying now to readjust ourselves to the law without making it hard upon our women."

Went Employ Minors. George S. Parker, of the Parker Pen company, in announcing that he has discharged six minors, stated that his company will no longer be able to employ minors.

"I refer to that portion of the law referring to young people," he said. "That section makes it necessary for the minors to attend school three days a week and it will be impossible for us to keep them under such a provision. The law will not affect our other help, however."

Affects Slow Workers. The opinion of the "Hough" Shade corporation is that the law will affect the slow worker everywhere in the state. They said:

"It will not affect the speedworker or the one who has become expert in piece work, but it will be hard on the minors and the elderly people who are unable to work fast enough. We have none here now in this slack season but we will be affected because we have sorted out our help and now employ only experts. But the other day we had two young girls come in for work but when they said they were 15 we could give them nothing. They were in desperate straits and said they must have work. There is where it is going to hurt where people need the money, no matter how small it is, and we cannot give them anything but the minimum wage."

At the Lewis Knitting company's office it was declared that the new law will not create an "unhappy" with them, and while they will not have to discharge any employees, it will work against them.

The Tragedy of the Peasant in Mid-Russia.

BAR WHOLESALERS FROM DISTRIBUTING ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS

Washington.—Regulatory eliminating wholesale liquor dealers from distribution of alcoholic beverages was passed Friday by the Federal Revenue Commission.

In general they provide that sales of liquor at wholesale are restricted to manufacturers and "wholesale" druggists except that other persons may sell for sacramental purposes wines which they lawfully import for such use. Supplemental regulations covering sacramental wine will be issued later.

The new regulations also forbid sales at wholesale of intoxicating liquors for domestic use in bottles of a greater capacity than one pint and permit wholesale druggists to sell during any one month liquor aggregating only 10 per cent of his entire average monthly bona fide drug business sales.

INJUNCTION BALKS ENFORCEMENT BY STATE AGENCIES

MILWAUKEE LIQUOR INTERESTS BEHIND NEW MOVE

Appearance Made Before Circuit Bench After Morgan Refuses to Prosecute.

TO SUPREME COURT

Madison.—Temporary injunction against W. Stanley Smith, prohibition commissioner, restraining him from enforcing the provision of the Severson prohibition law requiring removal or alteration of bars and prohibiting sale of non-intoxicating liquor over bars, was obtained in the circuit court of Dane county Friday by P. C. Kolinski, representing Milwaukee saloon interests.

The order which applies to Hugo Alby Milwaukee, as plaintiff, has already been read to the sheriff, who has been instructed to carry out the injunction.

Commissioner Smith is ordered to appear in court Aug. 16 to show cause why he should not be permanently enjoined and restrained from beginning, instituting or prosecuting any action under the section in dispute.

Morgan Won't Prosecute. Following hearing before Judge E. Ray Stevens on August 16, the case will be taken to the supreme court. Mr. Kolinski said. First arguments on the August calendar for 1921 are heard September 20 by the court, that time to file complaints, attorneys say.

Appearance was made before the circuit court here after Attorney General Morgan declined shortly before the case was taken to the supreme court. Mr. Kolinski said. First arguments on the August calendar for 1921 are heard September 20 by the court, that time to file complaints, attorneys say.

The original plan of the saloon men had been to appear before the high court today and ask for injunction restraining Elmer S. High, state treasurer, from paying any funds to the prohibition commissioner or for enforcement of the law.

The allegation would be that these officers were paying out public funds for enforcing provisions of an unconstitutional act, the plaintiff maintained. That $200,000 of state taxpayers money was being unlawfully spent.

The petition to the court alleged that removal of the saloon men from the place is designed and for which is used, and that removal of curtains and screens would render the place unfit for use.

WISCONSIN LAKES OPEN TO PUBLIC

Opinion by Attorney General
Will Bring Hundreds of Shores into Use.

(By Associated Press.)
Madison.—Private owners have no lawful right to obstruct the shores of Wisconsin from use by the public, through construction of fences across pathways or by any other means that would keep waters out of public use, Attorney General William Morgan holds Friday, in an opinion to the conservation commission.

The stand of the attorney general will open to the public the shores of lakes, the beds of which are owned by the state, below the high water mark, are paramount to the private rights of the owners of abutting lands," the opinion states.

"It is important that these rights be maintained. The principle of state ownership of our lakes and the beds there of, the high water mark would be meaningless and impotent if the use and enjoyment of the public water could be monopolized by riparian owners, simply by putting them to exclude the public from access thereto in denying the public its right to the use of the shore below the high water mark."

"The property owner has no right to prevent any person from entering to any lake, or to exclude people from any part of a lake. This opinion is to be the basis of the common notion of private owners of lands about lakes. It is broad in its scope and will mean the opening of hundreds of lakes now excluded from the public to their use."

Action of a private owner of land near peninsula state park in building a fence to exclude the public was the basis of the opinion.

SCALES ARE SOURCE OF DELIGHT—MAYBE DISMAY—TO WOMEN

Women use the street and public store scales far more than do men.

They are more anxious concerning their weight and consequently more often spend the penny to find out whether they had better start dieting and exercising to reduce or to start eating more to increase.

"We would say that five women use the penny scales to one man," it was declared by clerks in a drug store having a penny scale.

"When women get weighed most often they have a disappointed expression. They have not lost or gained as much as they wanted or expected. Also it is noticeable that most women who are weighed are heavy and evidently seeking to reduce. They watch the scales intently."

"The scales here allow an indicator to register what the person weighs and whether or not correct, she gets the penny back. Not one in 10 guesses correctly," it was stated.

HOME IS SOUGHT FOR ORPHAN GIRL

11-Year Old Child Hopes She Won't Have to Go to Sparta.

There may be a family in or near Janesville desiring an 11-year old girl, whose greatest hope right now is a decent home and a chance to go to school.

For the sake of the story she may be called "Mary" which may, and may not be her name.

When Kate dealt the cards around the strange family of relatives, left little Mary with a poor hand to start the game of life. She had known a fairly good home until a few years back. Then things began to slip and she was made to suffer and to laugh in Mary's life. Her mother deserted her and she went to the home of relatives. That was all right but the hard part is that the kinship people are moving into another state and have only limited funds and a big family of their own. They are unable to take the girl as one of the family. There is one thing that could be done and that is to send her to the state school for dependent children. But she does not want to go. It is not home. She is willing to wash dishes, help around the house, be a maid and do anything to get a place to live and a chance to go to school.

Miss Anna Leutscher, county nurse, is attempting to find the home for her.

"The girl is loved by the people who know her, for she is bright and decidedly pretty," states the county nurse. "I hope a home can be found for her for every child who is mentioned, the child cries as if her heart would break."

SOUTHERN WISCONSIN AT THE STATE FAIR.
Rock county last year received the blue and gold banner from the state fair for the best points of any county showing in the exhibits. Walworth and other counties of Southern Wisconsin also made excellent showings. It is a matter of pride that Rock county will again be in the competitive lists. In cattle, sheep and hogs. Southern Wisconsin should carry off the palm. No other section of the state has so attractive a location for the breeding and raising of animals and nowhere have the farmers and stock raisers paid more attention to all the points necessary to make prize winners. From a visit to many other parts of the state, it may be gathered that this section has suffered less from the excessive heat than counties further north or in the central sections. Grain is better, though we have had a comparatively light crop. But all in all we certainly have enough to make a great showing at the state fair and "Old Rock" will be on parade as usual.

In order to maintain the open door in China we will not turn over the keys to Japan.

THE FAILURE OF THE SOVIET.
Under the communist and socialistic doctrine that sinks the individual in the mass, no man can survive unless all survive and no man can be richer than another. On one hand we are told that the starving in Russia are the result of the refusal of the United States government to recognize the Soviet government and make it possible for it to feed the dying. In the next breath comes the assertion that the Soviet government has money with which to buy goods and enter into trade. Of course both these statements cannot be true. Senator Franco is coming back from a visit to Lenin to ask a $2,000,000,000 loan to Russia. It is to be doubted that recognition of the Russian Soviet would have been withheld, had there been at any time in four years internal quiet, or had an orderly government been established whether that had been of the Soviet or of a republic or a monarchy.
It must not be forgotten that carrying out the first principles of Karl Marx, there must be utter destruction of the aristocrat, the educated and the well-to-do. All property must be confiscated for the benefit of the surviving mass proletariat. This the Soviet proceeded to do with the result that we have now before us a great part of the Russian people starving. The division of the property and wealth of the bourgeoisie was honest and the industries had been operated and the fields planted for the common good, it might have been possible that the Utopian dream of Marx would have succeeded in putting off the fatal day. But in that case there would have been no Lenins and no Trozkys.
There has been in Russia a great peasant revolt against the attempt to confiscate crops and property of the poorer persons for the army, the indolent and the powerful. The story of this revolt will be told in the Gazette of Saturday this week. One obtains a rather interesting insight into what must have been the hell through which the lowest, industrious people of Russia have passed in the last years. No outside influence has destroyed the Soviet as a functioning body. It has simply eaten up all the stolen foods and spent all the stolen money. It has refused to work either for itself or anyone else. To call it a "workmen's" government is to cast an aspersion on the proud name and title of workman. And unless there is a change, for every bushel of grain fed to the starving, the Soviet will take one away from some of those who still have.

Possibly the Boozie Hoisters Alliance think it can repeat Cana by turning beer into medicine.

SANITARIUM FOR ROCK COUNTY.
With all the preliminaries accomplished and only the actual taking over of the property to follow, the Rock County Sanitarium will soon be a fact. It has been a long time since the movement for such an addition to the county institutions was proposed. Recently the sanitarium at Jefferson was opened and the example set there has undoubtedly had some weight in stimulating the board to a definite conclusion here. The county board has gone at the matter in its recent session in a thoroughly business like manner and the committee in charge can proceed to get the work under way at an early date. In such a place the sick will be cared for without endangering others and have the accommodations which they deserve. The greatest disease danger in the United States is in tuberculosis and every step that can be taken to prevent the spread of this contagion should be put forward. The sanitarium will relieve the county farm of patients that have never rightfully belonged there and have only been sent to the almshouse because there was no other place for them.

ROADS OF REMEMBRANCE
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—Instead of covering the country with the old fashioned idea of monuments to the heroic American dead of the World War, a strong movement is afoot and gaining strength for planting memorial trees to honor the memory of the slain. The suggestion is linked up with the good roads campaign in a way that has been planted in the hearts of people along the finest highways of the nation to make them constant reminders of the services made.
The American Legion is taking a leading part in cooperating with the American Forestry Association in this work. Coupled with the beautiful thought of making the trees living monuments to the men who lost their lives in France and on the high seas is the idea of the movement. By checking the deforestation of the United States. All memorial trees and groves are being registered on an official list kept in Washington by the Forestry Association.
Charlotte, Mich., has furnished an example which shows the plan hope other towns and cities will follow. An unsightly piece of ground in the town was converted into a garden spot through the work of the school children and citizens of the town, with the American Legion playing a prominent part. Seven thousand year old white pines were planted in 100 hardwood trees, mostly maple and elm, 100 black walnut, 100 butternut, and a grove of red oaks were planted. A memorial tablet stands in the center of the park, noting that the grove is a memorial to the Eaton County men who went across and did not come back.
One of the last official acts of Colonel F. W. Galbraith, Jr. late commander of the American Legion before his tragic death in an automobile accident, was to plant trees at the intersection of the National and Dixie Highways in memory of his fallen comrades in arms. These trees are planted in the town of Vandalia, Ohio. The American Legion now is making plans to continue the memorial trees from this point along both highways. These rows of trees lining the two great roads will, it is expected, be dedicated to Colonel Galbraith himself.
Near Canton and not far from Vandalia, tree planting soon is to be resumed by an organization of Stark County women which bids fair to be the leading county unit in this work. These women, headed by Mrs. William D. Caldwell, have planted hundreds of trees along the Lincoln Highway, and are completing the planting of a memorial avenue called "President's Row" that runs from the highway 400 yards to the tomb of the martyred President McKinley.
In starting the planting of "President's Row" the tree used by Mrs. Harding, wife of the President, was utilized for the first time outside of Washington. The tree is now in great demand at tree-planting ceremonies, and Mrs. Harding has publicly expressed the wish that the little garden implement will travel far in this work.

THE "U. S. CAN" TOURISTS.
The "U. S. Can" tourists, now becoming familiar everywhere, are moving another great agency in fostering tree-planting. Municipalities have come to realize that attractive places must be provided for them to stay. Hundreds of towns have laid out parks and groves for the reception of these motor tourists, the American Forestry Association reports. Rivalry in this has sprung up between neighboring municipalities, with healthful and beneficial results.
Among days in the fall and Armistice Day in November provide a sequence of appropriate dates for tree planting, and plans are being pushed for starting thousands of trees growing on these occasions.
In the yard of one of the public schools in Washington—the Force School—there is now growing a Lombardy poplar planted in memory of Quentin Roosevelt. Quentin attended the Force School when his illustrious father was president, and is the only one of the former pupils of the school to lose his life in the World War. On the succeeding anniversary of Armistice Day, the sons and daughters of Washington's most distinguished residents have joined in exercises in honor of the son of the late ex-President.
On the drill field of the University of Illinois 173 trees have been planted to honor the memory of 173 former students who "went west" before the war ended. The University is not ending its efforts there, though, and is taking an active part in the movement for making the nation's highways roads of remembrance by planting trees along the borders.
American Forestry Association officials urge that the proper kinds of trees be planted. Varieties like the elm and the sycamore should be planted where the ground is low and rather moist, while such trees as oak and pine should be planted where the site is dry and sandy. The situation of the trees, the organization urges, should be carefully selected with reference to other features of the site.
The Chamber of Commerce of Santa Rosa has planted four and a half miles of shade trees along a section of the state highway, in honor of the gold star men, the women's clubs assisting in the commercial organization with the plan. The trees are on each side of the highway, twenty feet from the center. Luther Burbank was consulted as to the proper shade trees to plant there, and his suggestions followed. The civic organizations of the towns along this sixteen mile section of its state highway have lined the entire roadway with ornamental shade trees, with the assistance of women's organizations of various characters. The American Legion and the school children aided in the completion of the planting. The California Highway Commission will take charge, and be responsible for the care of the trees.
In planting trees the first question that comes up is the kind of tree to select. The answer to this depends upon a few easily ascertained factors. One of the most important is the character of the soil in which the trees are to be planted. A few trees make among them the American elm, adaptable to a wide range of soils. Some other trees, such as the tulip tree, require special conditions in order to thrive. Deep, rich soil is essential to the tulip and some others.
The question of climate of course must be considered. No one is going to plant palm trees in New England and expect them to thrive or even to live, but there are distinctions much finer than these. The live oak grows best in the South, for instance, while the sugar maple thrives best in the more rigorous New England and Northwestern climates.
The American Forestry Association has worked out answers to every question that can be asked about the proper trees to plant in any section or community, and this information is at the disposal of individuals or organizations undertaking a tree planting program. But officials of the forestry organization say that it is safe to follow the course of planting trees which already are thriving in the neighborhood in which the trees are to be planted.

Spain, almost a friend of Germany in the war, watched the Germans arm the Moroccans with complicity during the war. That was against the French. Now a Spanish army has been defeated by the Moroccans with a Spanish loss of 10,000. The militaristic arm of Germany certainly reached a long way.

Democratic newspapers, are apologizing for Mr. Harding's mistakes. They seem to feel keenly over some of the things he has done and perhaps with great cause.

Memory trees will add to the attractiveness of the county highways and serve to keep alive the deeds of the boys from Rock county in the war.

So far neither Governor Blaine nor Prohibition Commissioner Smith has resigned office in favor of the Canals.

JUST FOLKS

JUS WORK.
There isn't much fame on a farm, an' the farm doesn't pile up the wealth. It gives you an appetite early in the morn'g, an' it's usually lavish with health. The world travels by in its cars, but the men and the women don't see. Any reason to cheat anything that I do or pin any medals on me? But I'm don't my work just the same an' at night time the Lord an' I know. That the wheat's lookin' fine in the acres out there, an' I—well, I helped it to grow.

Sometimes I get gloomy an' blue an' wish I could rise with the great. An' wish I could be a thing out which my hands have builded or helped to create. Then the orchard looks over to me an' the fruit-laden trees seem to say, "If it were not for you an' the care that you've given, we wouldn't be herein' today." An' the acres of corn over there, I planted 'em all, row by row. "The good gift of nature," the poets declare—but the Lord knows I helped it to grow.

The present coldness of the British government toward Lord Northcliffe is due in a small part to his opposition to the appointment of Lord Curzon, head of the British foreign office, as a member of the British delegation to the disarmament conference in Washington.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
Bavaria and the Study of English.
A recognition of the ascendancy of the English tongue is probably the reason why the Bavarian Minister of Public Education has lately before the Reichstag a proposal that the study of English, instead of French, be made compulsory in the public schools. However important French may be on the continent both to students and professional men, it yields next place to English in the matter of world trade, and in the world's industrial and financial centers. The Bavarian Minister, moreover, has not been slow to see, as probably have most Germans, the increase in territory which the British Empire has gained as part of the fruits of victory, and the quick-witted Bavarian has grasped the potential value in marks and pfennigs which might accrue to the German people if the language of the "two most powerful peoples in the world" English is the mother tongue; and this very fact makes a knowledge of English all but indispensable to men and women of affairs in every land.

LOOKING BACKWARD
FORTY YEARS AGO.
August 5, 1881—A settler has been stretched across the river just above the Milwaukee street bridge and about 30 good sized catfish are caught every day. The case in the municipal court against Fred Ebel was closed this morning and he is to be held over to the Circuit court on a charge of murder in the second degree.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
August 5, 1891—A good deal of criticism has been visited Madison against the state board of control because of the removal of Mrs. Little as superintendent of the State School for the Blind here and the appointment of W. D. Parker. It was said that the board had been told that Mrs. Little had done her work good and the appointment of Parker was because of politics.

August 5, 1901—The Davenport Express Frederick of Canada, brother of the Kaiser, and sister of Edward III died at her home in Germany today. TEN YEARS AGO
August 5, 1911—The man who committed suicide a week ago by throwing himself under train at the North-western depot was identified today as Charles Shipley of Selvidge, Ill. Mrs. Shipley came up yesterday afternoon and identified the clothes. The body has been interred at Oak Hill. Two miners were up in court today for intoxication.

ON GETTING A GOAT
Dear Dr. Brady: Is goat's milk generally laxative? 1. Would the use of one pint of goat's milk daily by a consumptive be apt to cause a slight temperature, where there was usually no fever? 2. Nervous prostration, followed by an operation for appendicitis, left me... I lasted four years, in spite of the efforts of digestive specialists in New York, Boston and other places. Last November, in California, I discovered The Goat. Since then, by the use of one quart of goat's milk per day, I have kept the bowels acting naturally, after a strike of four years.

Last summer pulmonary tuberculosis was discovered. By the use of goat's milk I have increased my weight from 105 to 145 pounds. During a brief absence from The Goat, while motoring through the Mojave desert, I lost weight, which proved pretty fairly that the goat's milk was the cause of my recovery. Do you wonder that I want to cancel The Goat? Am I justified in recommending goat's milk to friends who are suffering from chronic constipation, or is it only by chance that The Goat did such wonders for me? (Mrs. C. P.) Many thanks may be drawn from the text of today's Gazette. Let us consider them in order: First, it is human nature to ascribe any change for the worse or better to the last remedy or treatment employed. Most of us are prone to blame or extol what may have nothing to do with the changed condition. Goat's milk is richer in fat than any other kind of milk, and it is the fat in milk which produces its laxative effect, but goat's milk is scarcely to be considered a laxative food for one with chronic constipation. Most sufferers would probably note no difference between goat's milk and cow's milk from cows of the same breed. It is neither laxative nor binding. Secondly, many other factors are more reasonably responsible for the gain in weight than the use of goat's milk. The discovery of the lung tuberculosis probably led to some sort of treatment by rest, etc., which would favor gain in weight. It is not reasonable to imagine that any adult can gain 37 pounds in six months by merely taking a pint or a quart of goat's milk daily, notwithstanding the fact that goat's milk is probably the most wholesome and nutritious milk one can drink. The goat is more nearly immune to tuberculosis than any other domestic animal; some physicians have suggested that some patients may convert to the tuberculous patient something that tends to increase resistance to tuberculosis, but this is a conjecture merely. It may be that a life once made possible by the use of goat's milk to the patient—assuming she had the usual popular catching cold obsession—by the move to California from New York—contributed some.

ASK US
Q. How did the term "midshipman" as applied to the men at the naval academy originate? C. B. O.
A. The title originated in the British navy more than 200 years ago when the "young gentlemen" who were under instruction on these vessels for the purpose of becoming officers were given quarters amidships between the mainmast on the lower deck.
Q. How many enlisted men have applied for discharge under the present reduction of the army? C. E. B.
A. About 25 percent of the enlisted men have applied for discharge, this amounting to approximately 55,000.
Q. What is a manitow? C. N.
A. This is an Algonquian word used to designate a great canoe. It is a concept of the Algonquian-speaking Indian tribes around the great lakes. They believe in a cosmic mysterious property which pervades everything they see, feel or touch. In various manlike gods, spoken of as Manitow.
Q. Who was known as the Man Milliner? J. G. U.
A. This was a nickname given to the French emperor, Napoleon III, on account of his effeminacy and fondness for dress.
Q. When are hotheds and cold frames used? K. K. C.
A. A bed heated from the bottom by means of pipes, ducts or fermenting organic matter is used for seed germination and plant growing. It is used for short season vegetables and for starting seedlings in order to get them mature early. An unheated frame is used to carry hardy plants over winter for planting the next spring, or when only slight protection is needed.

Dinner Stories
Mrs. Blank, entering her kitchen one morning, saw a plate and knife and fork that had recently been used. Suspecting that Nora had been treating the good-looking ashman, she said "Nora, what became of the cold chicken that was left over from dinner last night?" "Gosh, morn, I didn't think you wanted it, so I gave it to the dog." "Does the dog use a knife and fork, then?" Inquired her mistress, sarcastically. "Yes, very well yet, morn, but I'm teachin' him to," was Nora's ready reply.

Horoscope
The stars incline but do not compel. FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1921
Again good and evil stars contend, according to astrology. While Venus, Jupiter and Neptune are in benefic aspect, Uranus, Saturn and Mercury are adverse.
It is not a lucky day for traveling, for there may be delays and even accidents.
The stars seem to promise great power for women who will organize for high purposes; there will be many that retard progress.
Statesmen and men in high place are warned that the planetary government indicates that there is danger in the activities of women who profess high purposes but work outside of proper channels.
Uranus is in an aspect supposed to encourage intrigue and double dealing on the part of women.
While this configuration prevails it will be for women who are engaged in public work to take cognizance of their exact attainments, for they must give a good account, if they are to promote the high ideals of political equality.
Although Venus smiles on the world today, it is not a lucky rule for love affairs, making for susceptibility and flirtation that mean nothing.
Theaters and places of amusement will suffer severely, not only on account of the warm weather, but because people must save their money. Farmers have the forecast of progress in agricultural methods, but they will suffer from difficulties attending the disposal of their crops.
Jupiter and Saturn in the seventh house seem to promise much for the revival of foreign trade.
Mexico is still subject to a planetary rule that encourages revolutionary uprisings, but conditions should improve.
Persons whose birthdate it is should not make any important changes in the coming year, but should pursue the old occupations. The young will woe, but there will be perk in the love-making of older persons. (Copyright, 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

AMERICA MAKING SEPARATE TREATY

Versailles Pact Won't Be Submitted; Rights Are Retained.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1921, by Jamesville Gazette.

Washington.—The United States government is making a separate treaty with Germany. The treaty of Versailles will not be submitted to the senate with or without reservations.

The new pact with Germany will be a peace treaty only in the sense that it will formally end the state of war between the United States and Germany, but it will really amount to a treaty of amity and commerce.

Germany has no right to demand the return of the rights which she gave America under the Versailles treaty. The United States is not asked to give up the rights which it has won in the war. The United States is not asked to give up the rights which it has won in the war.

Abandon No Rights. Briefly, the United States doesn't abandon the rights given her under the treaty of Versailles. She still claims them, but not by virtue of an American president's signature at Paris but because of America's signature to the terms of the armistice which symbolizes America's participation in the war. The United States government doesn't ask Germany to renounce anything and doesn't ask the allies to concede anything. The allies are asked to turn over to the United States the broad assumption that when Germany bestowed all her rights and properties upon her conquerors she made an irrevocable grant. That grant was made to the "principal allied and associated powers." The United States was one of "the associated powers."

America has no right to act as a "vocal and final" power in the treaty of Versailles was ratified or not. Since the United States has decided to stand on that ground, it isn't necessary to say that the allies are the principle. Secretary Hughes enunciated the doctrine in the Harding administration when he insisted in a formal note to the allies that the United States was not a party to the treaty of Versailles.

As for the allies, however, the big question remains as to whether they have or have not accepted the doctrine of prior rights of victorious powers. A certain communication sent by the council of the league of nations not long ago gives a clue to the attitude of the powers. The council was asked to consider the question of mandates, particularly the Yap mandate. The council decided that inasmuch as the allocation of mandates took place before the league was born, it behooves the principal allied and associated powers to settle the dispute first. This is taken here to mean that the league of nations, as the only body which can interpret the Versailles treaty in effect said that it will not claim jurisdiction over matters occurring prior to the first meeting of the league and will look to the principal allied and associated powers for decisions on these points.

Why Harvey is on Job. This explains to some extent why President Harding ordered American John Harvey to represent the United States on the supreme council which is composed exactly of the principal allied and associated powers. In the supreme council, therefore, will America raise all questions which may relate to mandates or rights which other powers claim under the Versailles pact. Instead of a treaty which Germany is entitled to lodge in the rights in the United States, the government here prefers to consider the rights already vested in the principal allied and associated powers and that nothing more need be done about that until a specific dispute arises, when the United States will adopt the same attitude she has taken in the Yap mandate case. Another point in the position taken by the United States on the Yap mandate has been informally indicated by Great Britain, France and Italy. After the Yap controversy is cleared up it is not unlikely that Japan will acquiesce in the broad principle that America is entitled to be consulted in regard to all questions in the world relating in any way to the rights of authority or power made by Germany to the group known as the principal allied and associated powers.

About Agreements. Other nations may not immediately agree to America's position, but the United States is going ahead on the assumption that they do, and has given the allied powers an opportunity to protest or object if they wish. America didn't exactly ask the other powers their views but stated plainly that course that was to be pursued, and of course if foreign governments do not object, diplomatically considered that silence gives consent.

It is precisely that delicate stage which the negotiations have reached. Do the allies feel that America, as a participant in the war, is entitled to the same rights under the armistice as America would have had under the treaty that followed the armistice? America had made it clear that she doesn't intend to intervene in European disputes or to assert her influence in matters that are accomplished facts as between the other powers, but she does insist that America shall never be considered as having lost any rights growing out of the European war when those rights in any way affect the interests of the United States.

Price Changes Few This Week in Stores Here

With the exception of fine white pickling onions selling at 15 cents a bushel there is nothing new in the line of vegetables and fruit in the local markets. Shipments of Michigan pickling onions are now coming in here.

Peaches are still scarce but some shipments of canning peaches have been received from the west which will sell at $2 a case or 25 cents a bushel. Potatoes are same price, $2.40 a bushel or 50 cents a peck. The Wisconsin crop has been retarded by the lack of rain and potatoes from Virginia being sold mostly.

Fruits which have shown no change in price are plums 85 cents a bushel; oranges, 50-55 cents a dozen. Lemons are slightly reduced in price in some stores, dropping from 55 to 50 cents a dozen. Other stores are selling them at 60 cents. Pears sell for 40 cents a dozen. Missouri watermelons are 12 cents. This is a reduction of ten cents a dozen over the former price on pears. Blueberries from the northern part of Wisconsin are not plentiful; they are selling for 40 cents a quart. Cantaloupes are shipped in sell from 10-15 cents. Bananas remain at 12-14 cents a pound. Grocers report a small peach crop this year and predict a high price.

Corn at Lower Mark. In the vegetable line tomatoes sell for from five to eight cents a pound; cucumbers 5 and 7 cents; celery 5 and 10 cents a bunch; corn 15 cents a dozen; turnips 5 cents a pound; and summer squash 5 and 10 cents each. Cabbages are selling high for this time of year at 7 cents a pound. Beans are 7 cents a bunch; carrots 5; green onions 5; head lettuce, 25. Californian grapes are on the market for 30 cents a pound. Duchesne and home grown apples are selling for 10 cents a pound, 2 for 25.

A rapid rise has been made in the cheese price in the past ten days, the wholesale price having increased 5 cents. Butter is 41 cents an increase over last week owing to the shortage of pastures, grocers declare. They predict that it will go higher within the next month.

Editor Gazette: A few words in regards to the knucks on the Loyal Order of the Moose, I and most of these Chicagoans show that the Ray Lewis and a few more seem to think so terrible and I failed to see where there was a kick coming from. Not only the police force but members of the order patrolled the grounds at all times. Is it reasonable to think a member would take his wife and children to see the things that these people were doing? Show me another organization that is doing the good to humanity that the Loyal Order of Moose is doing? Let these knuckers investigate the manner of our lodge and perhaps they will find out that this order wouldn't countenance any such doings. FAIR IS BOON TO CATTLE INDUSTRY

Special Investigator Here Praises Farmers for Progressive Methods.

"This is the most remarkable state for the purest breeds of cattle I have ever seen and Rock county is a surprise to me in the number of registered herds that it possesses," says J. S. Paige, industrial engineer of Chicago, who is doing some special investigation work for the Jamesville Chamber of Commerce.

A large part of the present popularity of "blue-bloods" in cattle is due to the efforts of the Jamesville fair and livestock exposition directors to increase the pedigreed stock to the maximum. Hardly any of the 3,500 farms of Rock county are said to be without at least one pure blood in its folds.

12,000 in Cattle Prices. Cattle comes in for one of the largest shares of premiums at the fair grounds next Tuesday and continues until Aug. 12. The total in prizes comes to $2,334. There are 179 classifications with an aggregate of 439 prizes.

Entries in the cattle divisions, which Edward Duthie of Jamesville, first lieutenant in the local cavalry troop, is superintendent, close at noon next Tuesday. Entries must be on the grounds and in their respective places at this time.

Pedigrees of all animals in all classes must be traceable to the recognized herd books for the particular breeds to which they belong. A single animal may be entered as one of the herd, but shall not otherwise be entered in more than one class, except the class for the get of one sire and the produce of one cow. All females 36 months or over must have produced a living calf within 18 months before the first day of the fair and entries must be accompanied by affidavits of birth of the last calf, or give satisfactory evidence of the bearing of a calf. All dairy cows must be milked dry at 5 o'clock on the morning of the day of judging.

For Beef Breeds. In the beef breeds, in which the prizes total $1,235, the base date for computing the age of entries in the senior classes is Sept. 1, and in the junior classes Jan. 1. In the dairy breeds, in which the prizes amount to $1,018, the base in the senior classes is Aug. 1, and in the junior classes Feb. 1.

All exhibitors of cattle are required to take part in the stock market and prize sale, Aug. 12, at 11 o'clock. All prize winners must go in the parade. The fair managers will co-operate with the exhibitors in providing the necessary help to lead the animals in the parade.

FARMS IN COUNTY WORTH 65 MILLION

Engineer Paige Lists 3,660 Farms—Two-Thirds Worked by Owners.

The value of Rock county's 3,660 farms is set at $65,479,222. This information is contained in the agricultural section of a book of general information being compiled by E. N. Paige, Chicago industrial engineer, for the local Chamber of Commerce. The book will be issued in typewritten form, although it may later be published in print and illustrated with photographs taken by Mr. Paige.

Of the 3,660 farms in the county, 2,461 are worked by the owners and 1,199 by tenants. The entire acreage of the county is 427,063, of which 340,328 is made up of improved farm lands.

The value of Rock county's farm land, Mr. Paige finds, has increased $6.9 cents per acre within the last 10 years. The agricultural information will contain data on the five different kinds of soil to be found in the county and tell what crops are best suited to each grade. There will be facts upon the crops, livestock and dairying industries.

As to sleeves—the three quarter length and long flowing ones are "the thing." Some of the dresses have lace collars, vests and buttons with bead creation which make them particularly handsome models for fall and winter wear, cleverly expressing youth, but without its frivolities.

Badger Fastest Half Mile Made Here by Maggie Riser

ROBBINS IS NEW STARTER FOR BIG HARNESS MEETING

The fastest half mile ever knocked off on a Wisconsin track was made by Maggie Riser in her last fast workout, before the Jamesville fair and livestock exposition and harness races open here next Tuesday. Her time was 1:01.

This mark was half a second faster than Maggie made in breaking her own record at Cleveland three weeks ago, when she made 1:01 1/2. The horse is owned by Tom O'Brien of Fond du Lac.

135 Horses Entered.
In her workout, Maggie Riser did the first half mile in 1:01 1/2. She finished the mile in 2:08 1/2. Both the mile and half mile tracks at the fair grounds were never in such good condition for an open season. When the first "go" is shouted, the horses are in a hurry to get to the starting line. There will be 135 horses here for the races. There were never so many high class horses here at one time before. It is a race according to Charles S. Putnam, director of speed.

Robbins New Starter. W. C. Robbins, Chicago, will be the official starter for the races. The previous starter was John Swanson of Keosauqua, Iowa. Both are old horsemen and high up in the estimation of all drivers and owners.

A special train of horses from the Dean stable at Palatine, Ill., is due to arrive here Sunday. Willwin, driven by E. J. Kilian, Minneapolis, who spends five months of every summer driving on the circuit for pleasure, came a last half mile in 1:02. This horse will show for herself in the 2:20 $1,000 stake. She has made many friends during her workouts here the past two weeks.

Dakota Winner Here. The Fitzall stable of John C. Nichols, former mayor of Jamesville, was putting on the finishing touches Thursday. The stable is in excellent condition.

Merry Zeece, owned by Gillespie brothers, Jackson, Minn., has been winning all through the Dakota circuit. She is a classy looking mare and is entered in the 2:12 pace.

A Vantz of the California stock farm at Nobeledford has arrived from Canada with two horses. They are in good condition despite a long journey.

Columbus Winner Arrives. The Joe Haber stable, Bozeman, Mont., arrived here Wednesday. They have been racing on the North Dakota circuit.

One of the fastest 3-year-olds ever owned in Wisconsin is Miss Gelsberg, owned by U. Forbes, owned by E. H. Johnson. She worked an easy mile in 1:18, the last half in 1:07, and the last quarter in 32 seconds.

Lord Busby of Indianapolis, owned by M. A. Busby, and entered in the 2:12 pace, won in the Columbus grand circuit meeting last Saturday, going the mile in 2:04 1/2.

SOUTHWORTH WHALES FILL IN LONG DRIVES. Southworth of the Braves was the winner here Thursday. He gathered a homer and three doubles. There were only four circuit winners made during the day. O'Connell of the Cubs, Cobb of Detroit and Jones of the Yankees got three of them. The total of extra base hits was 57.

Homers—Majors, 4; association, 6; total, 4.
Triples—Majors, 7; association, 5; total, 12.
Doubles—Majors, 31; association, 12; total, 43.

KILLEFER, NEW CUB MANAGER, MAY TAKE "HIPPO" VAUGHN BACK. Chicago. — Manager Bill Killefer, who Thursday assumed the leadership over the Chicago Cubs, succeeding J. J. Evers, declined Friday to forecast his plans for the future of the team, further than to say that he would do the best he could to put the Cubs up in front.

Jim Vaughn, Cub pitcher now serving a 30-day suspension, it was reported, would probably be a big factor in the Cub machine under Killefer's direction as the new manager is known to have a liking for Vaughn, who likewise has manifested a desire to work under Killefer's leadership.

Killefer would not comment on this but President Veeck said it would be up to Vaughn to report in condition to pitch on August 9 when his suspension expires.

Vaughn is down to pitch for the Detroit Tigers at Detroit against Joliet Saturday.

SPORTING BRIEFS
Chicago. — Joe Welling and Sailor Pineda, light weights are scheduled to box ten rounds Friday night at Aurora, Ill.

Buffalo. — Favorable weather conditions were indicated for the two days regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen over the Buffalo harbor Friday and Saturday. Oarsmen from all over the United States were entered and 30 of Canada's leading scullers were here to contest the championship over the 1 1/4 mile route.

Boston. — Mike Gibbons of St. Paul and Gus Platts of England, middleweights are scheduled to meet here Friday night in a ten round decision bout.

Detroit. — Chicago put St. Louis out of the running in the printers' national baseball championship, winning in the tenth inning 5 to 4.

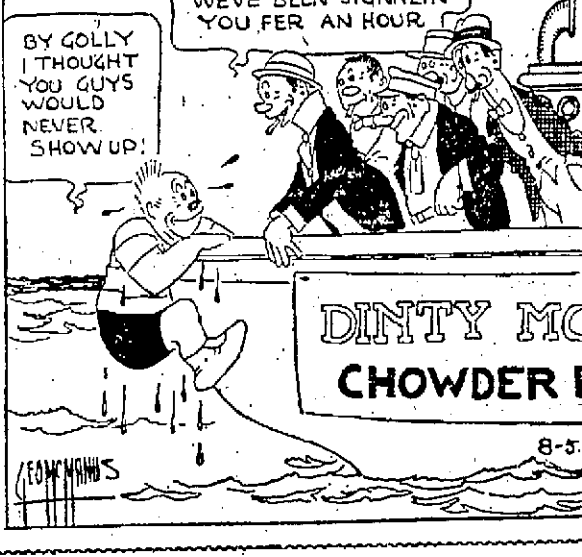

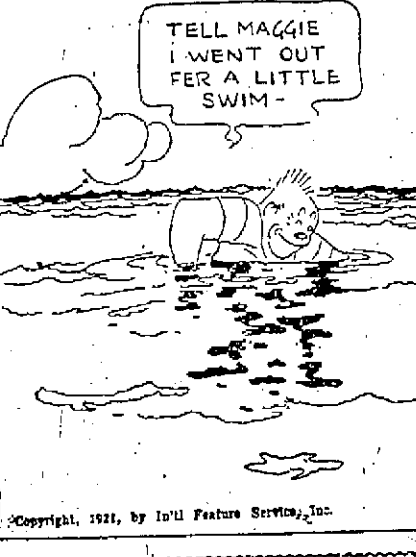

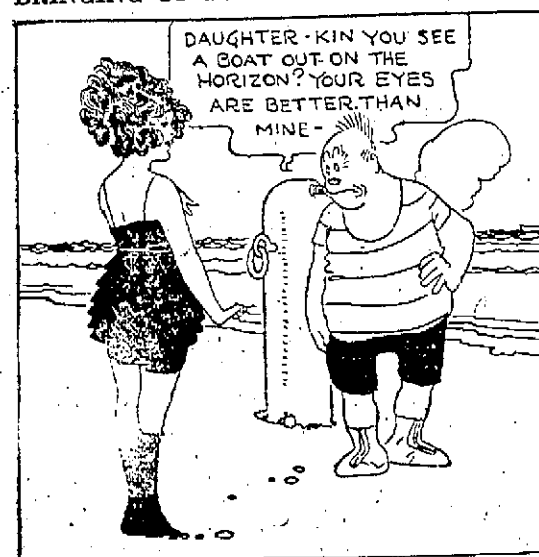

New York. — Gene Tunney, light heavy weight champion of the A. E. C., was given the judge's decision after a ten round bout with Martin Burke of New Orleans.

Lansing, Mich. — Gov. Greenback, indicated that few boxing or wrestling matches are to be allowed in the state until a new board of control is organized.

Indianapolis. — Manager Hendricks, of the Indianapolis American Association team has obtained Catcher Luke Sewell, from the Cleveland Americans. It was announced.

CARP'S INJURY DELAYS BOUT WITH GIBBONS. New York. — The Carpenter-Gibbons fight planned here for the first part of October has been postponed several weeks, because of the injury which the Frenchman received when he was defeated by Jack Dempsey, in Jersey City, July 2. The fight now is scheduled for late in October or the first part of November in Madison Square Garden.

"A larger movement of old 1 took place last week than for some time, 17 cars of cases going out, and 4 cars of bundles. No shipments leaf received at this point."
